Phoenix Saloons

Open Again

The issuance of twenty saloon licenses at Phoenix and four at Tempe yesterday by the county supervisors took the liquor business out of the hands of the "trust," consisting of one Tempe and three Phoenix saloons that had held the field to themselves for two weeks.

The territorial law designed to protect railroad grading camps against progreris, prevents the issuance of a license for saloon within six miles of any camp of public work where 25 men are employed. It was not intended for cities, but was invoked by the prohibitionists and stood the court test.

Licenses of all Phoenix and Tempe saloons, but four expired on March 1.

Meanwhile the reclamation service camp was established within six miles and prevented renewals. The camp was moved and licenses were issued yesterday. The saloons have another hurdle in a local option election April 15, passing which, they are safe for a year.

John Gleeson

Purchases Auto

John Gleeson, of Gleeson, has purchased an E. M. F. car of Bowen and Hubbard. Of the recent car lot bought by this firm only one, that used by Mr. Hubbard himself, remains. J. F. Lakin, factory representative of the manufacturing company, is in the city as the guest of the local agents.—Bisbee Review.

Leaves for Coast in Quest of Former Health

Druggist Ed Flach accompanied by his wife and children, were among the westbound passengers for Los Angeles and California points on this morning's train. They expect to be absent from Tombstone for several months, during which time it is hoped that Mr Flach will have again regained his former health, which will enable him to return here and look after his business interests. Mr Flach has been ill for sometime past suffering from acute stomach trouble.

Boquillas Company

Acquires More Stock

It is expected that the cattle will be ready for delivery by the 15th instant.—Benson Press.

Rebel Forces Moving

Into Nacozari Valley

The whole of the rebel forces under Giron, Calzad and Garcia are moving eastward into the Nacozari valley from the Sonora valley. Giron with 400 rebels entered Cuppas Sunday. There was little left in that town to take.

Madame Chispas wife of the Moc-terums prefect, passed south from Douglas to Moctezuma Monday. The rebels believe this indicates that Chispas will return to Moctezuma. Giron is striving to head him off. Gande leria's force, including fifty Pima Indians, is also in the vicinity of Cuppas. Chispas has 200 volunteers and 50 federal.

The advance guard of Iuen Cal-ra's force broke through Valde-a-Pass to Cos yesterday. They will come north to the border to get a stock of ammunition which "Red" Lopez's band is guarding at Cucuzza Springs.

A. N. Williams

Flies at Douglas

Yesterday afternoon, according to the International, A. N. Williams, the well known Douglas aviator, made a dash along the surface of the ground for a distance of 125 feet and then gracefully left the earth and rose to a height of 90 feet and flew through the air for a mile and a half at the rate of about 50 miles an hour. Mr Williams has a heavier than air machine that flew and 40 or 50 Douglas people witnessed the trial at the "proving grounds" north of the city. The sighting of the bird man was as easy and graceful as the same set of the "higher ups" in this line.

The machine with the driver weighs,

but 600 pounds and carries 213 pounds per square foot.

Earthquake Felt

in Old Mexico

Almost the entire State of Sinaloa on the West Coast of Mexico was violently shaken by an earthquake on Friday night before noon, according to passengers who arrived here from Mazatlan Sunday morning.

While none were killed, a number of persons were injured, some more or less seriously and the entire population of Mazatlan was thrown into panic.

The Tucson Citizen says that according to the official report of Dr M G males, director of the government observatory at Mazatlan, the shock lasted 24 seconds, and was very severe.

In a few minutes the streets of Mazatlan were crowded with panic stricken people, and the cathedral was crowded with men, women and children seeking refuge.

A number of buildings in course of construction were more or less damaged, among them the new municipal palace. The cathedral escaped injury though the shock was sufficient to ring the cathedral bell.

A number of old buildings were thrown down, especially in the Chinese quarter. The shock was of such severity as to throw people to the floor, and a number were injured by falling articles which were dislodged from the walls.

Arturo Vasquez, who was operating a machine in a shop, was thrown into the machinery and lost his entire left hand.

Kingman Receives Two

Automobile Trucks

March 21 there was unloaded at Kingman, from two flat cars two of the largest freighting automobile trucks ever built. The weight of the machines running light, is in excess of ten tons. They were built and taken to Kingman by the Great Western Transportation company for the purpose of trying them out on the flat and hill country around Kingman. The machines have normal 90 horse power, which can be turned on to 200 horsepower. The machines which have a width of nearly two feet over the ordinary wagon road, will make their own road over the flat country. On good roads it is stated that each machine will have a hauling capacity of twenty tons. It is a new type of machine and only these two have been built.

Has Difficulty in Getting

Into Arizona Again

Tao Tsopkai, a Chinese student of mining engineering, who also claims to be a prince of the royal blood, returned to Douglas yesterday from Nacozari, Sonora. He went there as a student and took notes on mining operations there.

He experienced some difficulty in gaining admission into the United States. However after wiring Washington, the secretary of commerce and labor ordered the port of Douglas opened for his admission and as soon as Tsopkai was passed through ordered it closed again to Chinamen, as this is not a port of entry to Chinese. San Diego, California, is the nearest port where Chinese may regularly apply for admission, except in transit in bond. Tsopkai is a member of the exempt class of Chinese.

Will be Sold at Public Auction

Fort Bowie, the old military reservation from which General Nelson A. Miles operated during the course of his campaign against the Apache chief, Geronimo, is to be sold at public auction and another landmark of Arizona pioneer days will give way to the onrush of settlers and the progress of civilization.

Fort Bowie is located ten miles south of Bowie in Cochise county and consists of 23,000 acres of land, said to be very rich and fertile.

The auction will commence at 10 o'clock on the morning of June 20 and will continue until all the land has been disposed. The sale will be conducted by Receiver Arnold and Register Parker of the Phoenix land office.

From Wednesday's Daily

Bernard Maier, the Benson merchant, is in the city today on a commercial visit.

Constable Frank Traak was in town

today from Benson, having brought up from the junction city a prisoner of the county bastille.

The election in Deming, New Mexico, last Tuesday to determine whether the new city council would issue licenses to saloons resulted in the city going wet by a vote of nearly two to one.
